Effective February 1st, 2019, Telarc will complete the relocation to its Italian, Milan-based factory of all ABB assets and raw materials pertaining to the manufacturing of R-series Bar Contactors, and will be able to re-start deliveries of complete units and spare parts.

Telarc will safeguard all R-Contactors commercial, industrial and qualitative aspects:

- All previous ABB Part Numbers will be kept unchanged
- All manufacturing and testing Processes will be continued at Telarc, with all applicable tools.
- Telarc staff has been trained on the ABB R-line prior to the relocation
- All key suppliers to the previous ABB line will continue to supply to the new Telarc R-Line.

Telarc will honor any backlogged delivery that may not be completed by ABB prior to the physical relocation at the same price and commercial conditions as ordered to ABB, as long as relevant Purchase Orders are re-issued on Telarc name.

Further, Telarc and ABB have entered a Service Agreement, under which Telarc will perform any and all warranty work on ABB-delivered R-products for their entire remaining warranty period, whereby the contractual responsibility for the warranty itself will remain with ABB.

The Telarc R-contactors range will be managed by Mr. Fabien Segui, previously Bar Contactors Product Manager at ABB, and by all of the bar-contactors team, supervised commercially by Claudio Mondellini, commercial director of Telarc, who can be contacted at:
